SUPERSOFT

Cosmic Capers
Cassette (VS64 0670) £7.95
Diskette (VS64 0671) £10.25

If you're new to adventure games then Cosmic Capers is an excellent program to begin with. There are problems to solve and places to visit.

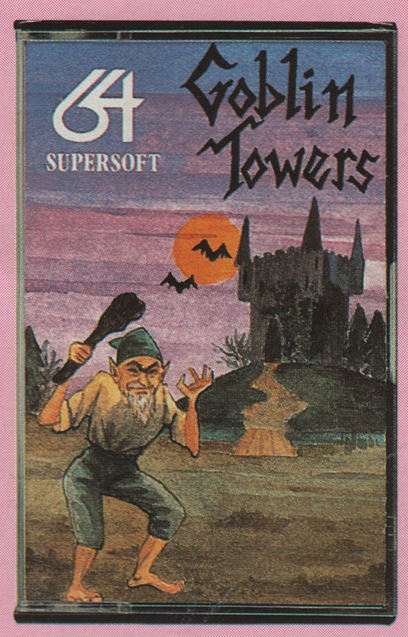

You'll spend hour after hour playing Cosmic Capers. It's fascinating — and above all, it's great fun. You can even list the program — that way you'll not only learn how to solve adventures, but quite a bit about programming too!

Goblin Towers
Cassette (VS64 0664) £9.95
Diskette (VS64-0665) £12.25

Somewhere in the middle of the dark forest is an ancient castle. Local people tell of strange creatures that guard immense treasures hidden in its depths, but since no-one who dares to venture inside ever returns to tell the tale, it's difficult to decide what is fact and what is idle gossip.

Quite complex phrases can be entered and interpreted by the computer, for example PUT THE RED APPLE IN THE BUCKET, or TIE THE ROPE TO THE HOOK. Experienced adventurers may take months to solve this complex game.

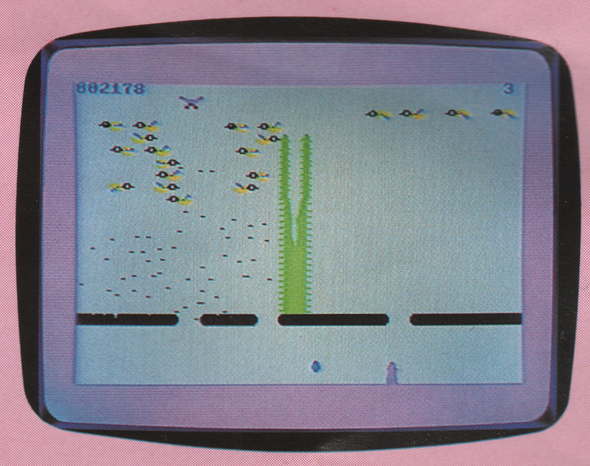

Kaktus
Cassette (VS64 0666) £8.95
Diskette (VS64 0667) £10.95

In the barren desert wastes the only plant that can survive is the giant cactus (cactus ginormous), but now even the cactus faces extinction. A giant swarm of wasps is threatening to topple the last surviving plants one by one — and only you can save the species!

Music 64
Cassette (VS64 0688) £6.95
Diskette (VS64 0669) £9.25

Type in some music, and your 64 will play for you. This simple introduction to music on the 64 allows you to enter, edit and play music. If you like what you hear you can save it on tape or disk to be reloaded another time.

Music 64 comes with a sample tune, "The Entertainer" by Scott Joplin, which will inspire you to write your own pieces.

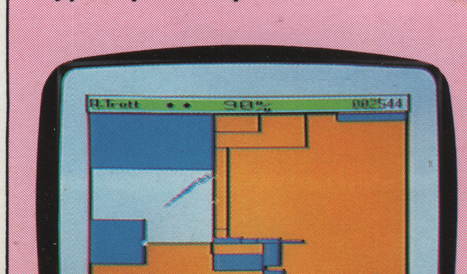

Stix
Cassette (VS64 0662) £8.95

Cartridge (VS64 0663) £19.95

If you're tired of biffing monsters and blasting aliens, then the subtle sound and soothing graphics of STIX are the ideal antidote. Rated a five star game by Personal Computer News.

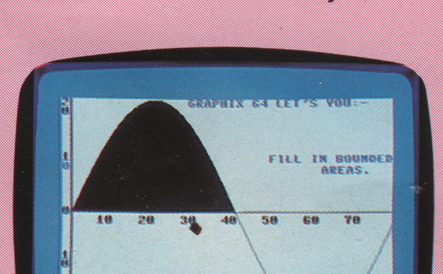

To keep the STIX under control you must restrict its movement by constructing force fields inside the hypersquare. Be careful that the STIX doesn't touch an incomplete force field, and don't hesitate as you move, or an energy ripple could destroy your field synthesizer. You've only a limited time to secure 75 per cent or more of the area and move into a new dimension before the hypersquare implodes!

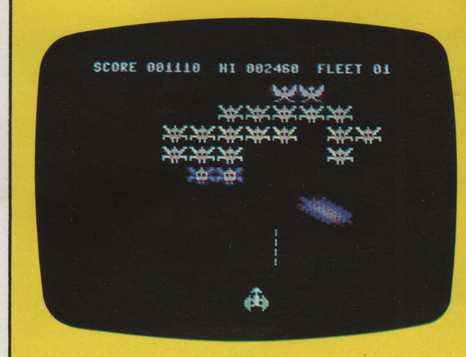

Graphix 64
Cassette (VS64 0661) £11.50
Diskette (VS64 0660) £13.80

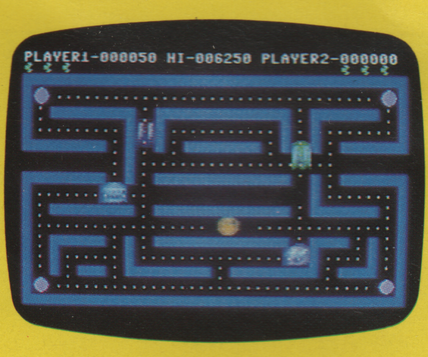

Graphix 64 is a machine code utility package which helps you to use the 64's high resolution graphics capability. Over 20 simple commands enable you to plot or erase points, draw lines, and fill or erase areas on the screen. You can display text characters on the graphics screen, or set up a "text window" so that part of the standard screen and part of the high resolution screen are visible simultaneously.

Graphix 64 is designed to be called from your own BASIC programs. It loads into the spare memory between the 64's ROMs, and allows you to use the otherwise unused memory.

SOLAR SOFTWARE

Galaxions
(VS64 0575) £7.95

Joystick or Keyboard.

The earth is being invaded by an alien force. The Galaxions have arrived from a dying planet, determined to destroy civilization as we know it. They come in formation, swooping and diving towards the planet earth. You and you alone can save mankind from the terrifying destruction.

(VS64 0185) £5.95

The Commodore 64 Exposed is an encyclopaedia of solutions from BASIC programming through to machine language, and includes vital tables of memory locations and system variables. The step by step format is to ensure that every owner will understand exactly how their Commodore 64 works.

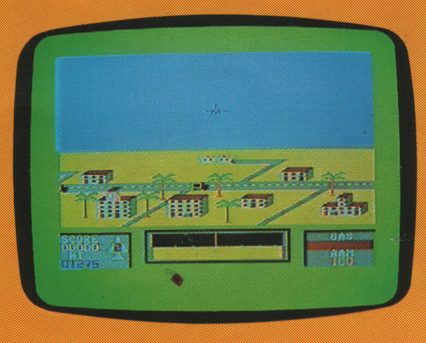

VIRGIN GAMES

Falcon Patrol
(VS64 0781) £6.95

As sole survivor of Falcon Patrol you must try and stop the attacking jets from destroying your oil instalations and refuelling bases. Your jet is armed with anti-aircraft missiles and a very sophisticated radar. To re-fuel and re-arm you must land vertically on one of your bases.

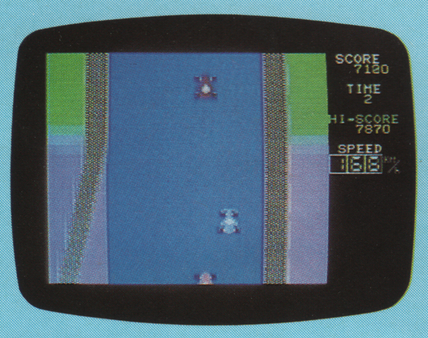

Brittania
(VS64 0780) £6.95

Requires joystick.

You are inside a data-base within the "64" and battling against the neutron flow. Your task — to reach the central core. But to defend itself the CPU sends out its armies of BITS. Your defence is a powerful laser cannon. The aim is to destroy all or as many of the BITS as you can.

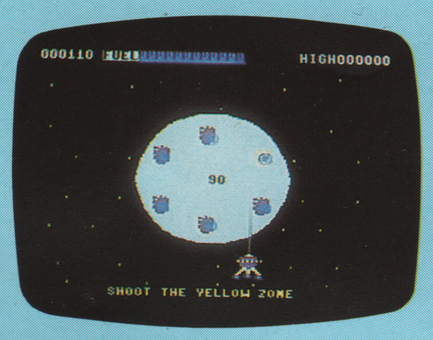

COMMODORE

Le Mans
Cartridge (C64 616) £9.99

Requires Paddles.

Guide your racing car around the circuit without crashing. The display informs you of your speed, your score, the highest score so far, and the number of cars you have overtaken. Crashing forces you into the pits for repairs which loses you points and wipes out your score of overtaken cars. Great for would-be racing drivers of all ages.

Lazarian
Cartridge (C64 613) £9.99

Requires Joystick

An outstanding colourful arcade game. As you destroy the enemy stations on the planet, each one sends out a spaceship to destroy you. If you succeed in hitting all six you have the chance to enter the real zone and destroy the comets. Having accomplished that, you face the tunnel of fear where the enemy tries everything in its power to stop you getting through. If you are skillful enough to overcome that obstacle you then have to reach the aliens eye. Then complete your mission by hitting it four times with your lazer beam.

International Soccer
Cartridge (C64 635) £9.99

Requires one or two Joysticks.

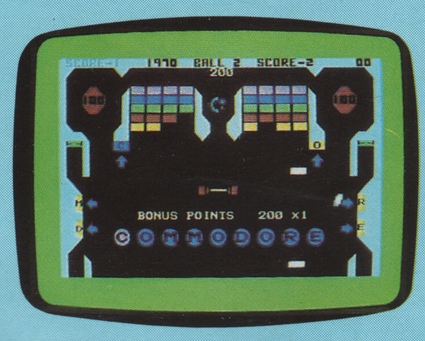

This game gives the option of direct competition between two players with Joysticks or a solo game against the computer.

The function keys select team colours, colour or monochrome screen, and on the one player game, nine levels of play. All throw-in and corners are controlled by the computer but you can defend your goal, kick, pass, and score.

Pinball Spectacular
Cartridge (C64 617) £9.99

Requires Paddles.

This is no ordinary pinball game. In place of flippers there are two sliding paddles to control the rebound of the ball. The table is filled with obstacles, gates, rows, and bumpers which change colour and make various sounds as the ball hits them. There are a variety of ways to gain bonus points, including hitting the Super Logo and lighting up the name Commodore. Hours of fun in this colourful cartridge.

Rail Boss
Diskette (RBO 6440) £11.99

Rail Boss is a business simulation game by the authors of High Flyer. You are the boss of a railway company which is laying a new route from the East to the West coast. Before track can be laid the surrounding land has to be surveyed. From the survey you decide on the best direction in which to lay the railway and where to build stations, etc. Revenue is obtained from carrying passengers between stations. You must balance this against your costs. The route West is beset with problems and unexpected events which adds to the challenge for the Rail Boss. This is not a game to play at one sitting. You can save your existing game on diskette and return to it when you wish to extend the railway.

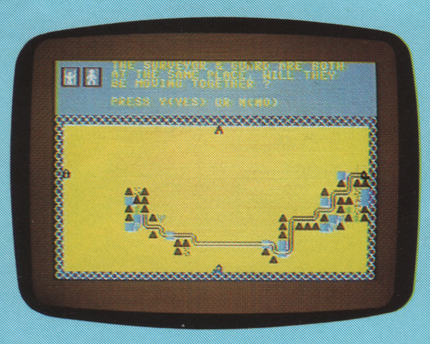

Club Manager
Diskette (CMG 6440) £50.00

Club Manager is a "menu-driven" package for maintaining up to 500 membership records and controlling as many bookings and diary entries as you wish. Bookings are checked to prevent double bookings. For an unlimited number of facilities, e.g. squash courts, restaurant tables, sports lessons, etc.

Membership records include details such as fees due, renewal, (with auto-update), interest or committee codes, etc as well as name, address, phone numbers and occupation.

Club Manager links with Easy Script to produce personalised standard letters for all or selected members. The program also prints labels.

Works with Commodore printers.

Hide and Seek
Cassette (HAS 6420) £9.99

For ages five to seven years.

Hide and Seek helps develop memory, discrimination and word recognition. It is a computerised version of the game in which the cards are laid face down and the objective is to find matching pairs. On the screen are six or nine boxes and these are filled with different objects one at a time. When each of the boxes contains an object they are all masked and you are requested to find given objects. The game includes three variations of play in addition to numerous pictures.

Get Ready to Read
Diskette (GRR 6440) £11.99
Cassette (GRR 6420) £11.99
For ages five to seven years.

Get Ready to Read is designed to aid discrimination, recognition, memory and other basic skills that are necessary for the development of reading. There are four levels each of which contains eight programs and a progress chart. The package comes with a comprehensive manual for parents and a B.J. Bear storybook.

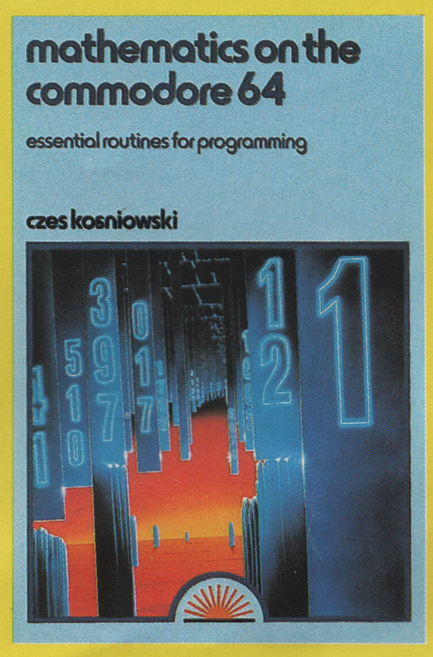

The package optionally works with Commodore's Magic Voice speech synthesizer. Get Ready to Read is only part of a planned series of programs from the educational facility at Birmingham University. Start to Read, Get Ready for Numbers and Get Ready to Think will be available shortly.

64 TIPS

One of the most common queries received by the Commodore Information Centre concerns the symbols that are found in some program listings which appear in computer magazines. Here is a 64 Tip to help you understand them.

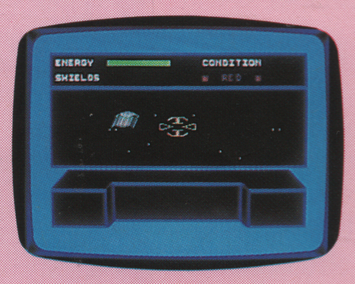

The 64 allows you to specify control keys, etc. in print statements so that these functions can be executed within a program. For example it is possible to position the cursor or clear the screen using the relative symbol with the quotation marks. The following list shows the symbols and the keys that generate it. (Don't forget the quotes).

- SHIFT & CLR/HOME
- CLR/HOME
- CTRL & ONE
- CTRL & TWO
- OR CTRL & THREE
- CTRL & FOUR
- CTRL & FIVE
- CTRL & SIX
- CTRL & SEVEN
- CTRL & EIGHT
- CTRL & NINE
- CTRL & ZERO
- FUNCTION KEY ONE
- FUNCTION KEY THREE
- FUNCTION KEY FIVE
- FUNCTION KEY SEVEN
- FUNCTION KEY TWO
- FUNCTION KEY FOUR
- FUNCTION KEY SIX
- FUNCTION KEY EIGHT
- CRSR DOWN
- CRSR UP
- CRSR RIGHT
- CRSR LEFT
- SHIFT & INST/DEL
- TWO QUOTATION MARKS

PLACE CURSOR OVER SECOND QUOTATIONS & THEN SHIFT & INST/DEL THEN JUST INST/DEL.

- COMMODORE FLAG & ONE
- COMMODORE FLAG & TWO
- COMMODORE FLAG & THREE

The Idea Behind the Game
The evil alien nasties have invaded earth — but not in person! They have abducted some camels from earth and used devious genetic engineering to mutate the normally harmless beasts to 90 foot high, laser spitting, neutronium shielded death camels! Your mission is to pilot your tiny spaceship in combat against these mutants.

Gridrunner
(VS64 0153) £5.00

Available only on cassette.

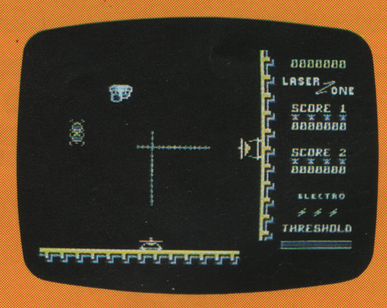

The Game
In the year 2190, the human race has set up a huge solar-power collecting power station in earth's orbit to beam power down to earth. This power station is known simply as "The Grid". Shortly after beginning operation, the grid was found to be delivering less power than predicted. Investigation teams were sent into orbit. They discovered that the grid had been invaded by alien Droids, who were using the power to reproduce themselves, massing for an invasion of Earth. To combat the Droids, a special combat ship was developed.

Matrix
(VS64 0155) £7.00

Available on cassette only.

You, one of the survivors of the Gridrunner squadrons, are sitting watching TV when suddenly an announcement breaks in:
"All pilots with Gridrunner experience report to base!
"We have brought you here because once again earth is in danger. The droids have returned — with superior weapons and tactics! We intend to form a new squadron — Codename MATRIX. You will be flying the latest fighters — capable of operation on or off the power matrix and with improved firepower and manoeuverability.

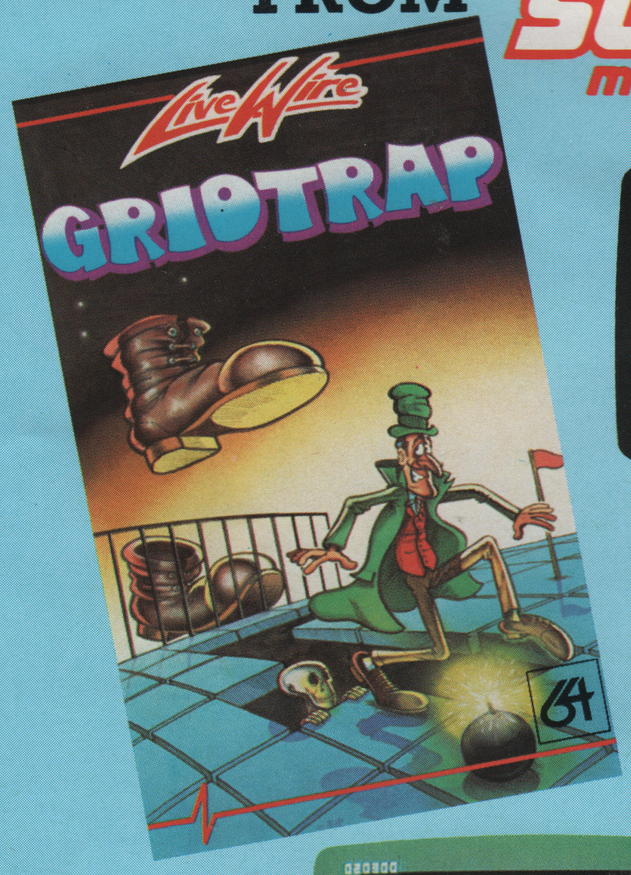

Lazer Zone
(VS64 0154) £7.50

Available on cassette only.

Object: As a Zone Gunner you must protect your Lazer Zone from attack by hostile aliens. You control two spaceships, each with a rapid-fire Plasma Cannon. Your Objective: Simply to vaporise as many nasties as you can before you are yourself rendered into your component atoms.

The Utilities include such features as a 1541 disk back-up, a DOS Wedge, SUPERMON — a machine code monitor, and a PET EMULATOR.

The graphic features include a character editor to create and store up to five user-defined character sets and a sprite editor to design sprites within a grid on the screen for use in your BASIC and/or Assembler programs.

The SIDMON program allows you to experiment with the 6581 (sound interface) chip.

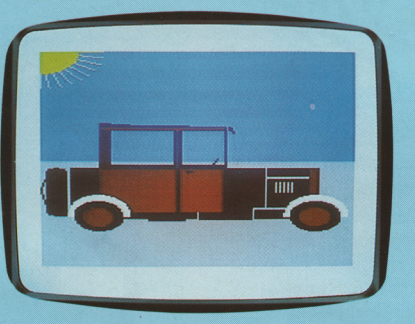

The BASIC Programming Aids contains a screen editor which simplifies screen formating and validates user input.

Programmer's Reference Guide

(PRG 6490) £9.95

Whether you are a competent beginner or an advanced programmer, this is the book for you. Aspects of both BASIC and Machine Language programming are covered together with tips to help you gain the most use from your Commodore 64.

The book contains a description of each BASIC command and an example of each Machine Code instruction is given with an explanation. It includes a comprehensive CBM 64 memory map, and the KERNAL entry points. This book will help maximise the potential of your machine.

Simons' BASIC

Cartridge (SIB 6410) £56.00

Simons' BASIC contains 114 more commands than the standard BASIC. Includes tool kit command such as AUTO, RENUMBER, KEY and TRACE.

Graphics commands include COLOUR, HI-RESl, CIRCLE, PAINT and PLOT, plus commands for creating sprites and your own user-defined graphics.

The Cartridge also contains structured programming commands and name. SCRSV and COPY allow you to scroll, store screen data and produce a print out.

This product is a must for programmers who wish to extend their talents.

Simons' Basic Extension

Cassette (SBX 6420) £19.95

Diskette (SBX 6440) £19.95

SBX provides an extra 86 commands designed to supplement those already available in Simon's Basic.

1. Extended programming aids such as RENUMBER, DELETE, ALTER, HELP and CHAIN.
2. An advanced array of manipulation systems, including ELEMENTS, ZER ARR, SET ARR, MUL ARR, DIV ARR, ADD ARR and SUB ARR.
3. Extra trigonometrical functions, GRAD and DEG, Boolean operators EQV and IMP, and decimal to binary and hex conversion.
4. Memory manipulation commands such as DEEK and DOKE, together with HIMEN and LOMEN for advanced memory configuration.
5. Additional high resolution and multi-colour graphics commands, including GRID, TICK, VLIN, HLIN and MCOL. Also HSAVE and HLOAD for storing and recalling high resolution screens on disk or tape.
6. Advanced SPRITE commands, including SPRITE, BARRIER, INFO, INVERT, REVERSE and START, for smooth movement of multiple SPRITES, and because all SPRITES are VECTOR DRIVEN they will continue to move (unless told otherwise), while the rest of your program executes.

SBX also features two additional character sets, accessible through FONT with no loss in user memory.

All these features add up to make SIMON'S BASIC with SBX the ultimate programming tool for your 64.

GLOSSARY

ADVENTURE GAME: A type of game in which there is a wide variety of stages and objectives with a definite end. Traditional types are textual and require you to solve a problem by working through a "maze" collecting the proper objects to achieve a goal.

ARCADE GAME: A type of amusement game designed to draw attention by using exciting graphics and point scoring. Often lasts as long as a player can survive by shooting enemies or avoiding obstacles.

BUSINESS SIMULATION: A scenario that models itself on a situation in commerce or industry.

CODING: A name given to the act of writing instructions in a form the computer can understand, i.e. writing a program.

CRUNCHING: A term given to the act of bunching instructions together so that they occupy less memory space.

DATABASE: A computers version of a filing cabinet, i.e. a place where files are stored.

FILE: A collection of bits of information, grouped together and put into storage.

HEX: Short for HEXadecimal, a name given to numbers which use 16 as a base rather than 10 (decimal) or 2 (binary).

INTERFACE: A device through which parts of a system can communicate with each other.

INFORMATION HANDLING: A term for manipulating a data base i.e. sorting, automatically updating, generating reports, etc.

MENU: A list of choices in a program from which the user selects the desired action.

PROCESSOR: A very small but complex unit (often just a chip), which handles the "work" for the system.

SHOOT-EM-UP-GAME: A slang term given to games in which the object is to wipe out the enemy by firing at them, generally using a joystick.
